Future-Ready Workplaces: Integrating AI into Work

AI is no longer just an IT conversation—it's reshaping how companies hire, operate, and lead. In this webinar, we are exploring how mid-sized employers can thoughtfully integrate AI across departments, from optimizing talent to streamlining operations, while keeping the human element front and center.

Hear from a CTO and VP of People and Culture as they break down real-world use cases, risks, and cultural shifts. You'll walk away with an action plan for bridging tech and people strategy—plus a better understanding of where your organization stands in its AI journey. Join us as we discuss:

- How HR and IT can work together to bring AI into the workplace
- What companies are doing to help their teams get ready for AI
- Simple steps to start using AI in your organization today
